Stowell mill re-opens with new owners, new employees

Despite a last-minute change in what assets would be purchased, the newly formed Stowell Products, Inc., Monday took over the operation of Stowell Wood Products, in Bryant Pond.

The slight hitch developed, according to General Manager Doug Bucy, when it was learned that his company, formed by Pace Corp.—a consulting firm in Connecticut—could not purchase the hard assets of Stowell Wood Products before a federally mandated month-long waiting period.

This waiting period is required, Mr. Bucy and an official of Casco Northern Bank explained, because the bank's foreclosure on the real estate must be advertised so as to give all parties a chance to purchase those assets.

Legal advertisements will appear in area newspapers this week, Roger Hunter, of Casco Northern's home office in Portland, said. The notices will offer the foreclosed property to the highest bidder or to a party willing to assume the mortgage debt on the property. He declined to say what that debt amounted to.

Mr. Bucy said his company would like to purchase the real estate when it legally is available for sale, in September.

In the meantime, he said, his company Monday purchased the "soft" assets of Stowell Wood Products held by the bank: that is, the inventory, accounts receivable, and customer lists. For the time being, his company is leasing the machinery and real estate. He did not say what the purchase price was of the "soft" assets. "We wanted to get going as quickly as we could, and this was a way to do it," he added.

He was exultant that the plant was once again beginning to hum. "We're up and running," he said. Banker Roger Hunter commented: "It was a sincere effort on the part of the bank to get the mill open as soon as possible." The wood-turning mill was closed less than two weeks, having been suddenly shut down July 31 by former owner Dexter Stowell and the bank.

Workers began showing up at the mill at 8 a.m. Monday morning. There were 21 hourly workers called in Monday and continued on Page Two COLT LEAGUE CHAMPS: The Greenwood Colt League team was a pretty happy bunch after their hard-fought, 12-11 victory over Bethel 1 last Wednesday evening at Rumford Point. The team is composed of: on ground, Kathy Bartlett (scorekeeper); front row, Jim Whitman (coach), Tony Jordan, Chris Dunham, Mark Bartlett, Frank Heath, Ricky Roy, Travis Buck, Richie Herrick, Andy Bartlett (coach); back row, Joel Buckman, Alan Buckman, Ryan Mason, Perry Hart, Ben Hutchins, Dennis Swan.

Selectmen OK salary boost for town manager

Following a brief executive session to discuss the conditions of employment of Town Manager Rodney Lynch, the Bethel Board of Selectmen, Monday night, voted to extend the employment of the new administrator for three months while a permanent contract is being drawn up. And, in the meantime, they authorized a salary of $21,259, up from his original salary of $20,000.

Mr. Lynch was hired six months ago and had been a probationary employee until the selectmen's action. The new town manager, formerly an official in the City of Auburn, said he has sold his house in Auburn and is looking to purchase a home in Bethel. Presently, he is renting an apartment downtown.

Mr. Lynch informed the selectmen that the town's ambulance garage is now 55 percent completed, with windows already hung. Siding is beginning to be put in place, while the electrical wiring is about to be done. The chief contractor is Peter Kuzik, who is doing most of the work with Ed Kennett.

The selectmen were also informed of some changes at the town office. Pat Anderson has resigned because she is moving to New Hampshire. Next door, continued on Page Two

Woodstock voters vote to buy land for stump dump

At a special town meeting last night, Woodstock residents voted to purchase a site for a stump dump for the town. The property to be purchased belongs to Sterling Mills and is adjacent to Floyd Hurd's property on the Old Ricker Road. It has four acres and will cost $2,500.

Additionally, improvements costing an estimated $6,500 will have to be made to the Old Ricker Road.

In making their decision, the voters had to take several things into consideration. First, the distance to the Greenwood stump dump, which residents have been using under a temporary agreement, is inconvenient. Also, Woodstock would have had to pay 60 percent of the development cost of that site, the total of which was estimated at $3,000, if the Greenwood dump were to be formally under joint usage.

Mt. Abram signs final agreement with lenders

Officials of Mt. Abram Ski Slopes, in Locke Mills, signed final agreements Monday with the lenders providing financing for installation of a snowmaking system at the ski area. The signing, done at the Portland office of Oxford Bank's attorney, was attended by officials of Mt. Abram, Oxford Bank, Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments (AVCOG) and Development Concepts, Inc., the consulting firm hired by Mt. Abram.

Mt. Abram officials could not be reached for comment, but John Turner, of Development Concepts, Inc., in Auburn, said the signing committed the state to a $100,000 Economic Development Fund loan, to be administered by AVCOG, and the Oxford Bank to a $350,000 loan. Mr. Turner pointed out that the private loan was $50,000 higher than originally anticipated. Total cost of the snowmaking project is thus $450,000.

An official of the State Planning Office, Alain Ouellette, was happy that the project, originally approved by his office last spring, had finally cleared its last hurdle. "We're very pleased," he said.

Since the original approval, Mt. Abram has constructed a holding pond downhill from the ski area and has been welding and putting pipe in place on the mountain. The pond will be supplied by two streams coming down the mountain. All of the work had to be preceded by environmental studies, Mr. Ouellette said, all of which came out positive.

Mr. Turner said the entire system should be in place and operational by Dec. 1. The snowmaking is expected to cover about half the skiable terrain on the mountain, he said.

Greenwood wins Colt league crown

The outcome of the game was in doubt right up until the last pitch. The bases were loaded; there were two outs; Bethel, batting in the bottom of the 7th, had the tying run on third and the winning run on second. The runner on third was over halfway home when the batter hit a bouncer to Greenwood pitcher Frank Heath, who threw calmly to first for the final out.

And then the Greenwood bench, and the fans behind the bench, erupted in cheers. The Bethel players and fans, on the other hand, had little to cheer about, coming out on the bottom of the 12-11 score.

But, in reality, there was much to cheer about for Bethel, since the Bethel 1 Colt team had come through the season with a perfect 12-0 record. (League Commissioner Herb Ryerson gave the team a trophy for their accomplishment.)

Seeded number one going into the playoffs, Bethel easily disposed of Rumford Point, 15-3, in their only playoff game prior to the championship matchup last Wednesday.

Greenwood, on the other hand, seeded number three (Andover was the number two seed), had to fight to get by Bethel 2 (7-6) and West Paris (15-14).

The final test for both teams was pure David and Goliath—the Bethel 1 juggernaut coming out in the bottom of the first and immediately putting four markers up on the scoreboard. In the bottom of the second they added another two.

But Greenwood did not fold, spindle or mutilate. Rather, they played very tight defense, shutting out Bethel for the next three innings, while putting on their own side of the ledger three in the second, two in the third and one in the fifth.

And then came a two-out rally in the sixth inning, during which Greenwood pounded out six runs, many of them caused by a suddenly porous Bethel defense.

GREENWOOD'S RICKY ROY is about to slide safely into third while Bethel's Scott Buker awaits the throw. Greenwood defeated Bethel for the Colt League championship last Wednesday, 12-11, at Rumford Point.

Bethel fought back, scoring two in their half of the sixth, then holding Greenwood scoreless in the top half of the final frame, and finally putting across three runs in their final at-bat.

The tenacity of the Greenwood defense surprised many, as did the Green's consistent hitting and the assured pitching of Frank Heath.

Bethel's coach, Scott Berry, summed it up when he gave his troops a final exhortation as they fell behind by six in the sixth: "What you guys didn't realize is that Greenwood came to play ball." Greenwood coach Andy Bartlett agreed that determination was the telling factor. "The guys have had to come from behind all during the playoffs. So they knew they could do it."

Opinions

Another store... a rising tide

In the not too far distant future, area residents will have an additional location to do their grocery shopping, as well as another laundromat to do their weekly wash and another deli counter for sandwiches and pizzas.

Sometime after Labor Day the Locke Mills Marketplace is slated to open its doors and will give area shoppers a choice when they decide to replenish their larders. Since the Locke Mills Food Center was destroyed by fire over a year and half ago, little choice has existed in the area when customers desired to patronize a "full-line" market.

The acquisition of the Locke Mills store by John Praigg and Scott Brion last week has returned competition to the marketplace, and while it is bound to affect current grocery outlets, in the long run the "rising tide should lift all boats."

In the memory of some of our readers there were four markets in Bethel village, with two in Locke Mills and another two in Bryant Pond. While these provided competition that has been lacking of late locally, they quite possibly would not be successful today. With the sophistication, either real or pseudo, of today's shopper, yesterday's "grocery store" would not provide what they have come to expect.

What seems so good in retrospect, what seemed so good "yesterday when we were young," would seem excruciatingly archaic even to the most non-cosmopolitan amongst us.

Messrs. Praigg and Brion would appear to have made a right move in securing the services of Willie Hathaway as a consultant in their venture as it is always of benefit to have someone who knows the locality and its clientele. In the words of a salesman in Meredith Willson's "The Music Man"—"you gotta know the territory"—a fact that many fail to comprehend and appreciate. All too often those who have such grandiose and "better ideas" just fade away.

"Knowin' the territory" won't guarantee success, but it won't hurt.

reminded that they may attend any of these hearings, not just those scheduled for towns in which they are resident.

The board approved the format for an informational pamphlet concerning the proposed construction project, which is to be sent by bulk mail to SAD #44 residents prior to the scheduled public hearings. Further details concerning the proposal is to be available at the hearings.

An application for equivalent instruction for Jamie C. Lewis, daughter of Richard and Barbara Lewis, was approved by the directors.

The board accepted the resignation of Waymond Taylor as custodian at the Woodstock Elementary School effective Aug. 23. Authorization was granted to the superintendent of schools to post a vacant custodian's position with no specific title indicated. This will allow possible transfers within the system and still permit the hiring of a new custodian without readvertising.

The following high school athletic coaches were approved: Tim Kersey, boys' track; and Steven Keane, assistant boys' basketball.

Mrs. Arlene Bean was approved as a part-time custodian (10 hours per week) at the portable classroom building located at the Ethel Bisbee School. Mrs. Bean is also employed as a SAD #44 bus driver.

The utilization of classroom space in SAD #44 by the NTL in future summers was granted concept approval. The board is scheduled to consider the request again at their Aug. 26 meeting when a final lease agreement containing length of term, and other details will be available.

Also granted concept approval were three district development days for the instructional staff. Nine of these teacher in-service days were requested to be scheduled on the first Wednesday of each month starting in October, with students being dismissed at 11:30 a.m. and staff working on various projects for the rest of the (school) day. The matter is to be further considered at the Aug. 26 meeting of the directors.

Following extended discussion the directors turned down, by an 11 to 4 roll call vote, a revamped proposed attendance policy for the district. Board members voting on the prevailing side (negative) were: Alvin Barth, Merton Brown, Kay Chadbourne, Cheryl Elliot, Stanley Howe, of Bethel; Daniel Cole, Harry Swan, of Greenwood; Robin Fraser, Rick McVey, of Newry; Paul Hillquist, Eva C. Twitchell, of Woodstock. Directors favoring the proposed policy: Darlene Hall, Rex Thurston, of Andover; John K. Brown, of Bethel; Nancy Dewing, of Greenwood. Directors absent (and not voting): John Foster, Andover, and Sheryl Wilbur, Woodstock.

The SAD #44 directors are next scheduled to meet on Monday evening, Aug. 26, at 7:30 in the library at Telstar Regional High School.

STOWELL MILL RE-OPENS

another 21 called in yesterday. There were also 11 salaried staff at work this week.

Of the 42 hourly workers on the job this week, 18 of them were formerly employed in the mill. Mr. Bucy told The Citizen that, on advice of counsel, he was not hiring too many of the former employees because his firm could be liable for accumulated severance pay if those employees were ever laid off.

He said, however, that as many as three-quarters of the 20 additional hourly employees to be hired next week will be former employees.

One of the former employees, who was back at work this week under the new ownership, said he had mixed feelings upon returning to the mill. "It's sort of bittersweet," he said. "It's good to have a job, but you feel for the ones who don't have work."

There were 85 people put out of work when the mill closed, Mr. Stowell had said earlier.

Applicants for those jobs were numerous, Mr. Bucy said. During the three days of interviewing for mill workers last week in Norway, approximately 230 people applied, he said. Some were from as far away as Farmington.

Multi-program season of NTL '85 will conclude this weekend

The last group of NTL participants and staff for the summer arrived in Bethel last Monday when three new programs started. With the one group that started earlier now continuing into their second week, the total population currently is close to 120.

This year's informal staff presentations, the Sunrise Seminars, will conclude in a few days. On Tuesday, staffer Harold Bridger, from England, introduced Inre Lovey, from Hungary, who talked about "Myth and Reality of Eastern Europe and the West." Mr. Lovey has been at Bethel since June 24, having attended six weeks of NTL programs during this period. Wednesday's presentation, John Potts and Daryl Funches, was on "Intimacy—Part 2." The seminars for the rest of the week are as follows:

• Thursday, Aug. 15, Bernard Mohr: "Vision and Values: Developing Organizational Energy."

• Friday, Aug. 16, Justin Lippincott: "Analysis of Bureaucratic Decisions."

• Saturday, Aug. 17, Glenn Bates and Karen Moran: "Spirals—Life's Re-emerging Issues, or How Do I Make My Way Home?"

All interested people in the Bethel area are invited to attend these 7:30-8:15 a.m. seminars. Coffee is available at the door.

While the busy multiple-program season is coming to an end this weekend, along with the Sunrise Seminars, NTL people will still be in Bethel in the weeks to come, as single programs are to be held at the NTL Conference Center on Broad Street. The basic Human Interac-

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

We were saddened by the sudden death of our friend and co-worker, Frank Bean, selectman in Woodstock for the past five years. We wanted to publicly express our appreciation for Frank and hope you will print this letter for us.

Frank, also known as Beany and Uncle Bean, stood out as a very devoted and conscientious citizen of the town of Woodstock. His devotion was not only directed within the town but also in the county. He wasn't afraid to volunteer and step forward to offer a hand whenever needed.

Frank was a very understanding and cooperative individual who possessed a great tolerance for others. He was a person able to stand on his own beliefs without being pressured by others.

Our loss is immeasurable. The qualities of humor and concern for others was far above average. "Beany" certainly will be missed by all who knew him.

To the Editor:

I am writing to remind the senior citizens in the area about the 1985 Householders' Tax and Rent Refund Program. This program provides financial assistance to certain qualified seniors who own or rent their homestead. The amount of the refund is the property tax assessed or 25 percent of rent paid for the right of occupancy, up to a maximum of $400.

Senior citizens should also be aware of the Elderly Low Cost Drug Program. The program provides eligible individuals with the opportunity to obtain certain life-sustaining drugs for diabetes, heart conditions and high blood pressure at a cost of $2 per prescription.

You can apply for both programs on a single application form. The application form and instructions are provided by the Bureau of Taxation (address below). Distribution is being made by mailing the form to those persons who applied for the relief last year and by a bulk mailing to all municipal offices in the state. Claims must be filed between now and Oct. 15, 1985.

To qualify for the Tax and Rent refund, an individual must have reached the age of 62 by Dec. 31, 1984, must have been a legal resident of Maine, and must have owned or rented and occupied his homestead for the entire year of 1984. Total household income for 1984 must not have exceeded $6,200 in the case of a single-member household or $7,400 in the case of a multi-member household. An unmarried person who has reached the age of 55 by Dec. 31, 1984, and is, due to disability, receiving Federal disability payments is eligible providing he/she meets the other eligibility criteria. Married persons may also qualify at age 55 providing both spouses are receiving Federal disability payments and other eligibility criteria are met.

For applications or (answers to) questions please call 1-800-452-1983 or write: Bureau of Taxation, Income Tax Section, Station 24, State Office Building, Augusta, Maine 04333.

tion Laboratory is scheduled for Aug. 19-25 and again Sept. 7-13 at the Conference Center, while other single programs will be held at the Bethel Inn several times in 1986 during weeks when the Conference Center is closed.

NTL wishes to thank the merchants and townspeople of Bethel for their cordial reception of approximately 1,000 participants and more than 120 staff members during the past eight weeks. An even larger population and more complex schedule is planned for next summer, when seven programs will start on Monday, June 23, 1986.

No Fusilade spray on local potatoes

Although four Oxford County farmers have purchased the herbicide Fusilade, Bethel area potatoes are not being sprayed with the chemical. The herbicide, which the federal government has approved for weed control on some crops—but not on potatoes—has been causing concern for officials and potato farmers since it was discovered that some farmers in Aroostook County had used the chemical on potato fields.

A state Department of Agriculture spokesman told The Citizen that four purchases of Fusilade were made in Oxford County. Total amount purchased was 11 gallons. The spokesman declined to reveal the names of the purchasers. Statewide, there have been 191 purchases, totalling about 420 gallons.

Rumford potato grower Arthur Ladd, who has fields in the Bethel, Rumford and Andover areas, told The Citizen he uses the approved herbicide Dowpon on his fields, which are sprayed weekly by spray plane. "I never even heard of it (Fusilade)," he said, "till I seen it in the paper."

Mr. Ladd said he knew of no one in this area that was using the chemical.

GOULD PHYSICS TEACHER ATTENDS VMI WORKSHOP

Thomas J. Ford, a physics teacher at Gould Academy, was among 40 outstanding nationwide high school physics teachers who recently completed a Physics Honors Workshop at Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Va.

Three three-week workshops, funded by the National Science Foundation, stress science lecture demonstrations designed to stimulate student interest. The teachers selected for the summer workshop represented 20 states and were selected for the honors workshop by a committee of the American Association of Physics Teachers. Those completing the program received four semester hours of graduate credit from James Madison University.

Mr. Ford is a member of the American Association of Physics Teachers, the National Science Teachers Association, and the National Education Association.

20th ANNUAL WCSH-TV ART FESTIVAL ON AUG. 17

The 20th Annual WCSH-TV Sidewalk Art Festival is scheduled to take place on Saturday, Aug. 17 in downtown Portland. Three hundred and fifty artists will display their talents along Congress Street from Longfellow Square to Monument Square.

In addition to the 54 sponsor purchase prizes of $300, there is also a $750 first place prize, a $500 second place prize, a $750 WCSH-TV purchase prize and a $750 Arthur Hahn purchase prize, named after Arthur Hahn, the former staff artist at WCSH-TV who was one of the original creators of the festival.

This year's distinguished panel of judges is Michael Moore who has taught drawing and design at the University of Southern Maine since 1967, Marilyn Quint-Rose who teaches at the University of New England, and George Shedd, who teaches water color medium in Burlington, Mass., and designs greeting cards.

1985 TRAPPING SEASONS SET

Maine's 1985 furbearer trapping and hunting seasons have been announced by Fish and Wildlife Commissioner Glenn R. Manuel.

Manuel said the dates remain unchanged from 1984, with an Oct. 28 statewide opening date for the trapping season on bobcat, coyote, fisher, raccoon, otter, skunk, weasel, marten, mink and muskrat.

The trapping season will close Dec. 4 in the Southern Zone, south of the Canadian Pacific Railroad mainline track, and on Dec. 15 north of that line.

In addition to the regular muskrat season, muskrats may be trapped during the beaver trapping season in areas which are open to beaver trapping. No traps are to be set above ground level or snow in December.

Manuel also announced the following statewide furbearer hunting seasons: raccoon, Oct. 28 through Dec. 15; fox, Oct. 28 through Feb. 15; bobcat, Dec. 2 through Feb. 28; skunk, Oct. 28 through Dec. 15.

A CABARET TRIBUTE TO THE BROADWAY MUSICAL

Over seventy years of the best of Broadway Musicals are packed into a wonderful Cabaret-style review at The Bethel Inn every Thursday and Sunday evening through August 29.

Join us for dinner before the show or dessert, coffee and other appropriate refreshments during the show in the South Dining Room. Performances are a little over an hour, depending on how many encores the audience wants to sing. Both the Thursday and Sunday shows begin at 9:00 p.m.

The Cast includes Bob Elliott and Pixie Williams of Locke Mills, Lois Leckey of West Peru, Ken Goddard of Hanover and Kevin Ronkko of Norway. They will perform more than two dozen show stoppers from Broadway's finest, spanning a period from the early 1900's to the present. You'll recognize all your favorites and, if you want to add your voice to the informal cabaret atmosphere, please do so.

Our normal dinner menu with a dozen or more tempting entrees and homemade desserts will await you on our screened-in dining veranda or elegant main dining room. Or, join us just for the show and coffee, dessert or other refreshments during the show.

Reservations are recommended.
Cover charge for the show is $4.

Sudbury Canada Days for '85 are big success

A combination of good summer weather, enthusiastic visitors and a wide variety of events combined to make the sixth annual Sudbury Canada Days a big success. Several hundred attended the two day event held each August by the Bethel Historical Society as its summer festival, focusing on old-time pastimes. Sudbury Canada was the original name of what is today the town of Bethel.

Beginning the events on Saturday was the annual children's parade on the Bethel Common under the general chairmanship of Mary Gillies with the assistance of DeeDee Kellogg. The theme this year was "All From Maine" which produced a variety of innovative entries from license plates to potatoes to maple syrup. Judges this year were Donald B. Eddy, Josephine Monahan, and Nancie Conn. Winners in the category "Cleverest—Most Related to Theme" was Steven Greenleaf, Catherine Wright, and Erin Wright, second prize to Katie Nickerson, and third prize to Mindy Cooley. In the funniest category the winners were Joanne Fisher and Anna Kennett, followed by Caitlin Bass and then Alex Gillies. The prettiest category was won by Jaime Grover, then Emily Courage followed Anneliese Bass. In the judge's category the winner was B.J. Otten, followed by Christopher Brooks and a three way tie for third place won by Randy Gross, Julie Gross and Leah Bonema. The entries this year were particularly well done and the judges wish to congratulate those responsible for such fine work. A special thanks goes to David Kersey for drum, Tanya Corrin for flute and the MIA color guard for their participation.

One of the most successful parts of the two day event was the annual flower show with Barbara Herrick Brown in charge assisted by Gertrude Hutchins and granddaughter Shilo Hutchins. Over 70 arrangements were received and once more added great beauty to the interior of the Dr. Moses Mason House. This year's assortment was judged by many

MISS LUXTON IS MANAGER OF ALLENS CORNER BRANCH — MAINE NATIONAL BANK

Jane Luxton, formerly of Bethel, has been promoted to the position of manager of the Allens Corner branch of Maine National Bank. She is a graduate of Gould Academy, class of 1964, and Bliss College in 1968, and has taken many AIB courses. Miss Luxton joined the Runford office of Maine National Bank in 1968 as a secretary in the loan department. Since that time she has been a teller, a loan assistant, customer service representative, and most recently, branch relief manager, in the greater Portland area. She is the daughter of Sylvia Luxton of Bethel and the late Alton Luxton.

to be the best yet and included those by Barbara Douglass, Nancy Grover, John Payne, Margaret Quinn, Carole Duplessis, Forest Duplessis, Josephine Monahan, Jane Hosterman, Susan Kettinger, Martha Mitchell, Phyllis Dock, Betty Gilbert, Sylvia Wight, Elizabeth Lord, Molly Gray, Barbara Lucas, Frances Clark, Mary Keniston, Gertrude Hutchins, Margaret Joy Tibbitts, Ruth Cox, Edith Robertson, Sudie Vachon, Helen Morton, Geraldine Howe, and Barbara H. Brown.

Historical films were also popular. Shown this year were "Grandma Moses," "Currier and Ives," "Homespun," "Williamsburg Restored," "Hammerman at Williamsburg," and "Story of a Patriot."

Also featured this year were a wide variety of craft demonstrations and exhibits on the lawn of the Dr. Moses Mason House and in the meeting room as well. Among this year's participants were Elizabeth Lord, quilting; Janet Todd, lampshades; Pat Bennett, quilting; Robert Grover, stained glass; Jane Grover, spinning; Florence Hastings, rug braiding; Audrey Brooke, stenciling; Alden Kennett, split rail fencing; Albert Skillings and Tim Korhonen, blacksmithing; Edith Eddy, needlepoint; Carol Nielsen, quilting; Robert Keniston, woodworking; Dick Hastings, needle-

One dies in crash —two walk away

Robert LaMontagne, 42, of Robinson Hill, Bethel, was killed Thursday afternoon when the small stake truck he was driving southbound on the Songo Pond road jumped a ditch in front of the Owens residence and then veered back and ran off the opposite side of the road into the bushes.

Neighbors came out of their houses and said they saw two men get out of the truck and look around in the bushes where the truck came to rest. They were looking for the driver, they told the neighbors, and the neighbors helped in the search.

The driver's body was found five minutes after the crash, in the ditch the truck originally lurched, along with the left-hand door of the truck. It appeared that the door was torn off when the careening truck sideswiped a power pole as it crisscrossed the ditch. The body seemed to have hit the power pole or a boulder in the ditch, or both, Jon Owen, one of the neighbors on the scene said. Mr. Owen, a paramedic, said the driver was dead when they found him.

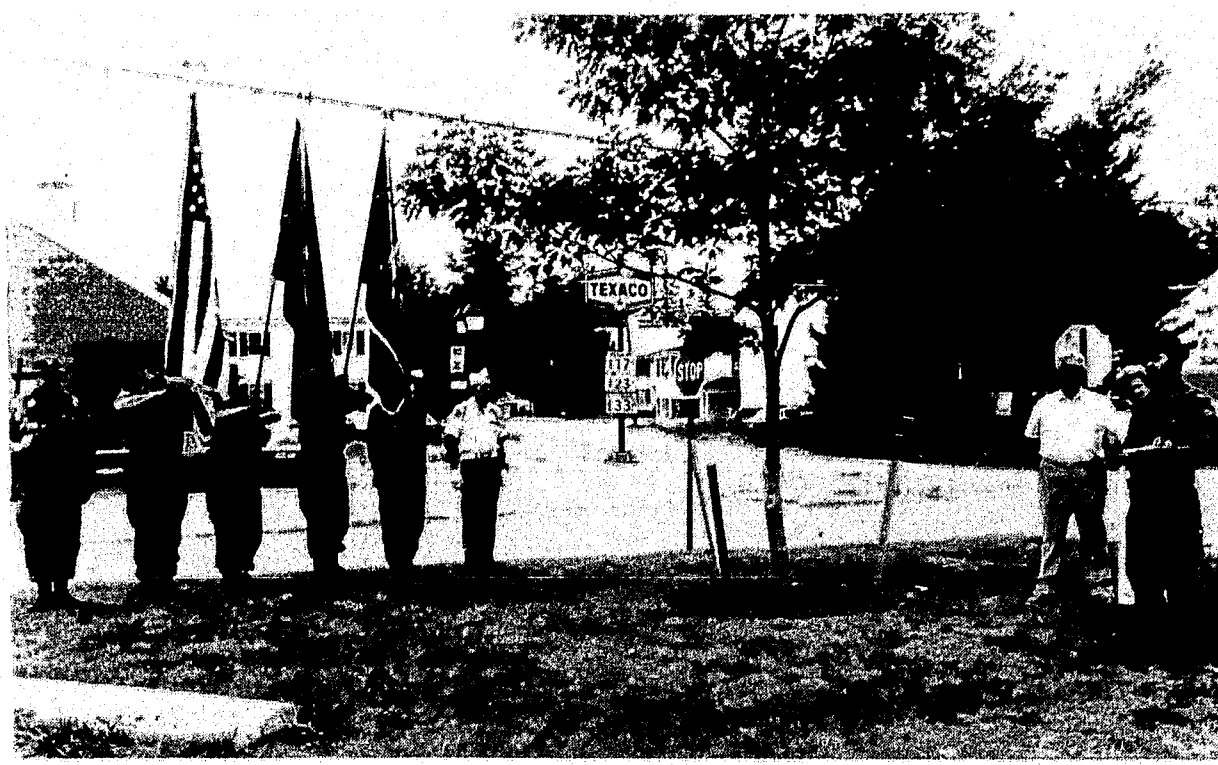

One of the passengers, Daniel Lamontagne, 19, (the driver's son) walked away before the body was found, apparently believing his father had already walked away. The other passenger, who remained at the scene, was Gerald Smith, 42, of West Bethel. He said he felt fortunate to be alive. He had a scratch on his hand and said he had a pain in his right shoulder.

Wooden planks from the stakes of the truck littered the Owens lawn.

point; New Gloucester craft group, spinning and dyeing; Agnes Haines, patchwork; Floribel Haines, crocheting, and reproduction old photographs by Hutchinson Bros. of Bridgton.

An art show under the general supervision of Helen Morton was held on the Ned Hastings lawn across Mason Street from the Dr. Moses Mason House.

A wide number of children's games were held under the genera; supervision of Gordon Gillies and Les Otten assisted by their wives. In the suitcase race the first place team included Jennie Cooley, Anna Moore, Scott Marchildon and Kimball Payne; second place—Erin Kailey, Sarah Kailey, Martha Newell, Pearl Reichel; third place—Celina Moore, Randy Gross, Davis Payne, Ryan Marchildon. In the egg relay race, the winners were Leah Bonema and Anneliese Bass, second place—B.J. Otten and Randy Gross; third—Mindy Cooley and Caitlin Bass. Over seven: first place winner were Scotty Marchildon and Kimball Payne; second—Sarah Kailey and Pearl Reichel; third—Martha Newell and Celina Moore. In the egg relay race, the winners were Jennie Cooley, Anna Moore, Scott Marchildon and Kimball Payne; second place winners were Erin Kailey, Sarah Kailey, Martha Newell, and Pearl Reichel; third place—Celina Moore, Randy Gross, Davis Payne and Ron Marchildon. The ice cream eating contest was won by Martha Newell followed by Sarah Kailey, Alex Gillies, and Anna Moore. Several over-all achievement awards were given, "tried TREE DEDICATION AT CASCO BANK SATURDAY: Richard Blouin, right, chairman of the Maine Vietnam Veterans Vigil Committee, dedicated a newly planted oak tree to Capt. Carl R. Churchill, USAF, one of the nearly 2,500 American servicemen still listed as missing in southeast Asia. Capt. Churchill was shot down over Laos on May 3, 1970. Capt. Churchill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Churchill, stand behind the speaker. Mr. Churchill had taught at Telstar. The ceremony was sponsored by the Bethel American Legion post and auxiliary.

GROCERY GETS NEW NAME

New owner John Praigg said this week that the former Locke Mills Food Center will henceforth be called the Locke Mills Marketplace. Signs should be going up soon, he said, both in the parking lot and on the front of the building.

Additionally, picture windows will be placed in the front of the building to allow the public to look in from the road.

CORRECTION: In last week's photo of new owners Scott Brion and John Praigg, Mr. Praigg's first name was incorrectly stated.

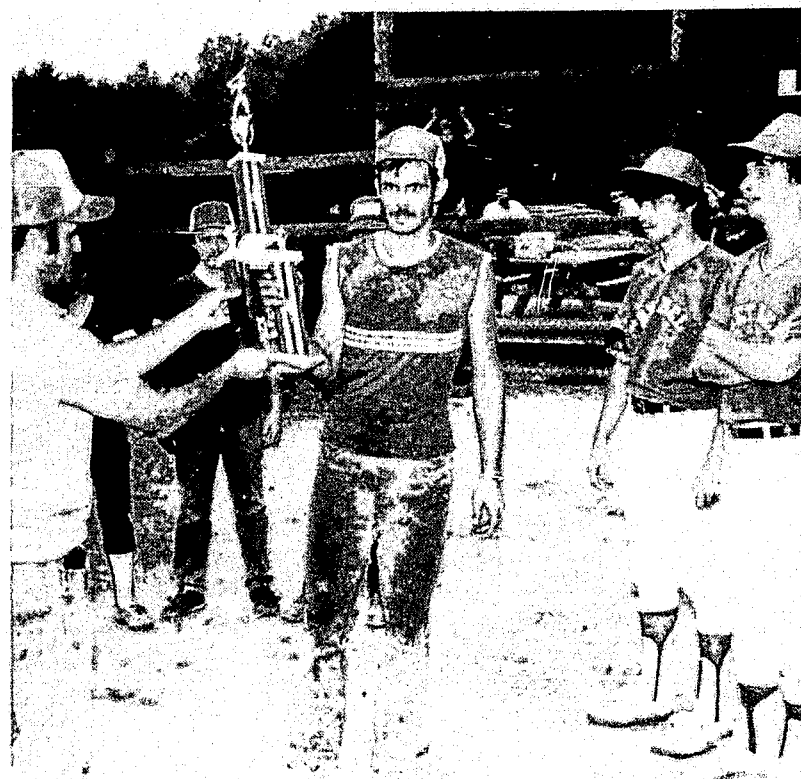

the hardest," to Aaron Kailey in suitcase race; "champion of the future," to Davis Payne; "best sport," Celina Moore. These activities were among the most popular events and much credit goes to all those who made them possible as well as the anonymous donor who contributed the prizes.

In the horseshoe tournament held on the lawn of General and Mrs. Alger's home just up the street from the Dr. Moses Mason House the winners were: first, Art Henley; second, Alan Hazelton, and third, Harold Bailey. This event was under the supervision of Harlan Hutchins and Norman Clanton.

The croquet tournament also was held on the Alger lawn was won by Mrs. Josephine Bailey of Hopkinton, R.I. This event was under the supervision of John and Mary Beth Bayerlein who operate Cameron House on Mason Street. Both the awards for horseshoes and croquet were provided by General and Mrs. James D. Alger.

The drawing for door prize was held late Saturday afternoon and was won by Amy Kennett of Locke Mills.

Following a delicious log driver's bean supper under the general supervision of Persis Post, visitors adjourned to the courtyard of the Dr. Moses Mason House for the old-time variety show hosted once again by Ned Hastings. Those participating included Dot Canwell, Richard

FOR THEIR WINNING SEASON (12-0) in Colt League play, the Bethel 1 team received a trophy last Wednesday. League Commissioner Herb Ryerson presented the award to Bethel's coach, Scott Berry.

Felt, Elden Hathaway, Carl Brooks, Jeff Hastings, Harry Davis (assisted by volunteers Edith Robertson, Arlene Brown, Robert Keniston and Rodney Howe), Brendon and Jean Bass, Tanya Corrin, Judy Morgan, and of course Ned Hastings.

Sunday morning featured an old fashioned church service at the West Parish Congregational Church under the supervision of Mary Valentine and Rev. Brendon Bass.

In the afternoon the flower show, art show and historical films were available at the Dr. Moses Mason House once more. The highlight of course was the annual concert at the historic Middle Intervale Meeting House (Bethel's oldest surviving church), featuring a wide variety of music.

LOGGER KATE NICKERSON was one of the winning entries in the Sudbury Canada Days parade in Bethel last Saturday.

By CLARICE GIBSON

George left Tuesday for a two weeks vacation. He stopped at Hampton Falls, N.H., to visit with his aunt, Bobby Peyear, and Uncle Ed. Left Monday morning and called Wednesday evening saying that he was in Orlando, Fla. Ira came for the weekend but after he left it left the old people all alone. Seems different as usually one boy or the other is home. Tuesday, Frankie and I went to visit the folks, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, Buck Hill, South Paris, and after dinner rode up to King's Hill to get blackberries and stopped in to see our friend, Janice Rosenburg, whom I haven't seen for years. How do we lose touch of friends so quickly. We make new friends but so often think of the old and when we do get back together can't seem to have time to get caught up! Maybe the fact that I lived in eight different places during my four years of high school keeps me from keeping up with the so-called gang as never really had time to get that close. Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. George Bethel, Debbie and young George, of Brooklyn, N.Y., came for supper and visit. They have a place in East Bethel. Our son, Wilfred, of Norway, also had supper with us Thursday. Frank went out to get corn out of our garden.

Neighbors from this road going to the 60th anniversary party for Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy on Aug. 4 were Frank and Sylvia Benson, Gerry and Joe Shimamura, Thelma Merrill, Ernest and Alberta Angevine, Victor and Judy Coolidge and three children. Aug. 5, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stearns went to the Chicken Coop. This was the actual day of the Murphys' 60th anniversary, the Stearns' 35th anniversary, and Pat's 79th birthday.

Sunday afternoon, Frank and Sylvia Benson went to see John and Nancy Wight, Newry, and one evening went to see Ted Gallant and daughters, Bethel. Dr. Leonard Shaw, Becky, Jon and Jeni, went to North Conway, N.H., shopping and lunch over the weekend. Becky and twins have been trying to beat the heat by going swimming.

Eric Anderson is doing jobs for Evelyn Hilborn.

Sunday, Aug. 4, Bob, Linda, Seth, and Jon Howe, went to the annual Fontaine reunion at Whortley Pond.

Marilyn Swan and boys of Sunday River joined Linda Howe and boys for an afternoon at the beach.

Linda Howe hosted a birthday party Aug. 7 for Bob Howe's 31st birthday. Joining them was his grandmother, Ethel Ward, and parents, Bud and Joan Howe, brother Tom and Suzanne Howe. After a barbecue Linda made ice cream and served it with brownies.

Gerry Shinamura took Frank and Evelyn Aylward to Frank's eye doctor Thursday.

Althea Brown and daughter, Anne Dunbar of Oxford spent Thursday shopping in Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rene Pivin

PIVIN - WESTLEIGH

Miss Lisa Ann Westleigh and Paul Rene Pivin were united in marriage Saturday, June 15, in a 2 p.m. double ring ceremony at the West Bethel Union Church. The Rev. Norman Rust officiated and Stephen Taylor, great-grandfather of the bride, gave the wedding prayer.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Westleigh, Flat Road, West Bethel. The groom is the son of Mrs. Jeanne Bald of Manchester, N.H., and Normand Pivin of Berlin, N.H.

The bride escorted to the altar by her father, wore a formal, white gown trimmed with lace, featuring a chapel-length train. A matching three-quarter-length veil was worn and she carried a bouquet of cascading white roses.

Linda Pivin, sister-in-law of the groom, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Susan Pivin, sister of the groom, and Michelle DePlanche, friend of the bride.

Richard Pivin, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were James Westleigh, brother of the bride and Daren Labbe, friend of the groom.

Music at the wedding ceremony was provided by Susan Glines, of West Paris, and Linda Pivin, matron of honor, sang "You Light Up My Life."

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Pivin are residing in Gorham, N.H., after a wedding trip to Bar Harbor and Nova Scotia.

The bride is a graduate of Telstar Regional High School and is employed by Town and Country, Gorham, N.H. The groom attended Gorham High School and is a member of the New Hampshire National Guard. He is employed by C&S Vending Company, Berlin, N.H.

Judy Coolidge and daughters hosted a shower for Kristy Angevine Thursday night. Those attending were Judy, Sarah, Jessie, Vicki Coolidge, Mary Angevine, Pat Angevine, Debbie, Dawn, Ryan and Rusty Seames, Alberta Angevine, Betty Blake, Kathy, Jennifer and Mary Mason, Pat Plake, Bev Corriveau, and Beth, Belissa Morin, Clarice Gibson, Lucy Robbins, Marie Cole, Cheryl Angevine, Gina Douglass, Sue and Kristy Angevine. Sending gifts but unable to attend were Mary McInnis, Bob and Cindy Blake, Pat Saunders and Susan Cole. After the unwrapping of the gifts, games were played and refreshments served. A cake with a small bear on top was the center of attraction.

Lester and Ruth Butters, Barbara MacDougall and Avis Doon rode up to King's Hill to buy some blueberries.

George, Marsha, Meredith, Amanda, and Greg Laban, of Plymouth, Mass., visited her brother and family the John Labans a few days. Amy Laban has been visiting her uncle and family for two weeks and came back with them.

Roasting Ears
The roasting ears are here again, They're on the bill of fare. The crop is plenty big enough So all can have a share. With deep-grained kernels looming up On each and every plate, They make about the finest food That mortals ever ate. There may be other dishes rare For which some folks may pine, But when the season comes along

One more week nearer to Labor Day and then to school for the children. I'm sure they don't like to think about it any more than we did when we were kids, but it always rolls around each year.

A little rain last night and hope we get more during the day today. We need it badly as we have all summer. The gardens have done better than I expected they would, but still, the rain would help a lot even now. Russell planted some cauliflower and we hope it has time to grow but don't know at this point. Won't get the broccoli that we usually do as some rude animal ate into the plants so hard that they ruined them completely.

I wasn't quite up to going to grange last Thursday but Russell and Peggy went to West Paris Grange while I kept the bed company.

Friday, I wasn't too good and decided I better see if the doctor could help me so gave him a call and went to town to get medication. I didn't want to pass on whatever it was that I had, so when Russell and Peggy decided to go to South Paris Grange on Saturday night, after being at the flea market, I stayed home and went to bed early again.

Felt some better on Sunday and watched the gang work at moving the big truck body that Lawrence had here by his cellar door and wanted to move. As he hadn't had the luck to sell his truck yet, he used it to move the trailer and put it beside his garage. It was quite a trick to get it into the small space and had to have the help of the bulldozer on front of the truck to accomplish the task, but got it there and a good job done. They left it until Monday to lower it down to where he wanted it and Lawrence and Russell worked on it most of the day Monday to jack it up and lower it down to get the wheels out and position it in a good way. Finally gave up on it in the late afternoon and it looked pretty good though there was trouble to get the doors to swing as Lawrence wanted them to. He found the trouble the next day.

Was to go to grange on Monday night but neither Russell or I felt like going, so didn't. However, we got gussied up Tuesday night and all went to Pomona Grange at Bryant Pond. Had my granddaughter Courtney with me and she was a good girl.

Had to go to North Bridgton for my usual appointment on Tuesday and got a few errands done on the way home. Have been making crocheted roses for a special bouquet and working on a dolly,

Roasting ears are mine. The roasting ears are at their best, It gives us all a thrill. At every meal we linger Till each one has his fill. We spread the butter on so thick, The salt and pepper too, The meal is full of pleasure For the entire family crew. The season's with us once again, We greet it with our cheers When Mother serves us heaping plates With luscious roasting ears. —H. Howard Biggar

Temperature is rising on the Bethel Area Health Center's fundraising thermometer. Helping point in the latest tally is John Head, Mary Brown and Cathy Parker. The Health Center hopes to raise $98.6 thousand towards its new facility in the former A&P building.

Challenge '85

Carolyn Holden, chairperson of the Challenge '85, has indicated that the Fund-Raising Committee of the Bethel Area Health Center is very pleased with the response from the mailing which was sent out recently.

Although the Center is over half-way to its goal, it is not relaxing its efforts. Your gift is welcome.

The Health Center is at the limit of its growth in its present facility. Space needs are critical and expansion is costly.

The Bethel Area Health Center is turning to you, their friends in the community. Challenge '85 is an opportunity for you to truly feel that it is your Health Center.

Those who have expressed support for the Health Center expansion this week are: Mr. and Mrs. Franklin S. Chapman; Elsie Davis; Borden and Bertha Foster; Noyes and Dorothy Shirley; Arthur and Joan Jentoft; Charles and Mary Keoskie; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kuzyk; Karen Brown; Leland and Barbara Brown; Kenneth Benne Ph.D., and Paul Blackwood, Ph.D.; Jay Woolsey; Clyde and Bertha Stevens; Frank and Janet Vogt; Vernon and Maxine Brown; Charles and Pat Blake; Stella Tyler; James and Josephine Monahan; Clarence and Joan Howe; John Witter, Jr.; Deborah Crump Bies, Stephen Bies, and Ashley Crump Bies; George and Susan Stevens; Norman Duran; Harold and Ruth Tyler; Edna Fallon; Wilder, Lucy and George Abbott; Leah Witter; Tim and Judy Kersey; Western Maine Graphics Inc.; Richard and Hulda Stevens; Al and Rosalie Sumner; Brian and Linda Stowell; Dale and Barbara Stevens; Virginia Daugle; Winifred Scott; Arthur and Evelyn Weisner; Donald Stecher; Andover Wood Products; Paul and Jean Kalley; David Fleet; Richard and Elizabeth Clark; William and Marguerite Graham; Michael and Sandra Cohen; Jack and Eleanor Parsons; Lee and Emma Billings; Grace Buck.

The fund-raising total is now up to $75,453. Remember the goal is $98,600!

A whiplash squawk of a bluejay broke the silence of morning so I got up to meet the day. Outside was alive with entrancing sights, sounds and smells. The pond was gleaming silver and the sun hit the mountain ridges across the valley.

After lunch, later, I took a hike to the farm hills and the brook. I could hardly believe it was goldenrod time once more. Asters were beginning their gaiety at an old cellar hole, and Bouncing Bet nodded a welcome.

I stood to look over the land and the men busy with their hay. What a change from the old to the new way of getting it. How different from the horses that I remember so clearly standing there steaming gently, tossing their heads, rippling their skin. They plodded along, their harness creaking or jangling with the old hayrack behind them, as the men pitched on the hay. They too, were wet with sweat. In the barn it was worse unloading and stowing away the hay to the mows and I remember leading the horse hitched to the hayfork.

Today how much faster but still hard work, the same sweet, pungent fragrance hovers over the countryside, as freshly cut grass wilts in the hot sunshine. It is true that the hay harvest is a time of hustle and anxiety. But in spite of this tension many farmers say that they like having the best of all the seasonal tasks in the farm schedule.

That evening, Aug. 3, we sat on our lawn as coolness came down like a mist. The sun was nearly gone leaving stains of its going in purples, pinks, and scarlet, and its going to the spectacle of a soft and golden evening. I marveled at its beauty, mirrored in the pond.

The grass was so green and velvety, and the flickering of the fireflies among the whisper of stirring leaves finished the picture.

We were relaxed and content just to sit and enjoy.

Across the pond the whole character of the hills changed as we watched.

Finally the night wrapped its soft shawl around the shoulders of this delightful day and pinned it with stars, as we left for a night of rest beneath a sky brilliant in the silence.

I am another year older since I last wrote and I received many cards, gifts, and visitors, which of course made my day a happy one. My sister-in-law brought me a lovely cake. My callers were brother Frank Curtis and wife, Dot, local; Carl and Lettie Brooks, Bill and Doris Slatery, West Paris; Lucy Bragg and son, Tommy, West Sumner; Eleanor Inman and granddaughter, Audrey, Ann Holt, local; Mr. and Mrs. Keijo Saarinen, Gardiner, Mass.; Ruth Coker, Philadelphia, Pa.; Beth Glines, South Paris.

John and Dot Betts entertained a large group of friends from Lynn, Mass., over the weekend.

The new manager of the Bethel IGA store is Bill Van Ginnekin, who lives in Wilton. A native of New Jersey, Mr. Van Ginnekin says he plans to move to the Bethel area with his wife, Vera, and 8-year-old daughter, Tammy Lea, as soon as he finds a small farm. He has five horses and one burro.

Doris Hayes had her usual family on Saturday. On Sunday, she went to Falmouth to visit her sisters for a few days.

Our most unusual caller was seen by us early one morning just before we sat down for breakfast at six-thirty, a mother doe and her two fawns out on our front lawn. They were having breakfast also, eating apples from under the tree. Such a lovely picture!

At the home of Fred and Rena Curtis over the weekend there were several callers: Albert and Marie Curtis, Buckfield; their son, Fred, stayed a few days; Laurie Curtis, Farmington; Ruth Collins, Gary and Kim Green, Freeport; Lewis and Tammy Cogswell, Topsham; Ronald Holman and daughter, Natasha, Bowdoin; Duane Alexander, Frank and Dot Curtis, Kathy Curtis and Felton, local.

At the Holts, Eldith Lang of West Paris visited David, Sally and Mary Holt of Dexter.

Fay, Ann, Sally and Mary Holt joined Robert Holt and family at Hermit Island for a picnic on Monday, Aug. 5.

Fred and Rena Curtis and granddaughter, Teresa came to see us Aug. 6.

WOODSTOCK VOTERS

The convenience of having a stump dump within the town of Woodstock was a major consideration. But the deciding factor seemed to be that the Old Ricker Road was in need of repair anyway. There have been numerous complaints about the condition of the road.

Voters rejected an alternative proposal of purchasing a site in Milton, because it seemed a temporary solution.

In other matters, the voters approved the purchase of a sander, for $2,600, to attach to the town's new truck. They approved transfer of $500 from surplus to the streetlight account. And they voted to transfer $387 from surplus to the workers' comp account to pay for increases in insurance premiums.

After the meeting, a hearing was held on closing roads for winter plowing. The two roads to be closed are the Shagg Pond Road, from the Scott Kendall turn to the end of the road, and the Perkins Valley Road, from Gustafson's to Malm's.

Newry town office

Selectmen Roger Hanscom and Lee Swan met yesterday morning. The need to repair or replace the town truck was discussed. It was voted to contact Marshall Fleet, road commissioner, and determine just what needs to be done to get the truck in shape for winter work.

The need to mow bushes on roadsides was also discussed, and it was voted to ask Fleet to have this done. Selectman Swan felt that some work needed to be done to the shoulders of the Monkey Brook Road.

Attorney Michael O'Donnell, of Bethel, requested an easement from the town for his clients, several owners of lots in Sunday River Village, to maintain a water main under the Greenbriar Road in the village, for a public water system.

Mr. O'Donnell said he would draft an ordinance, at no expense to the town, for selectmen's approval.

The selectmen informed him to go ahead and draft the ordinance.

A treasurer's warrant was made for the $44 monthly payment, and $15,000 from money collected from 1985 taxes was deposited in the savings account, to draw interest until needed to pay town bills.

The next meeting will be Aug. 20 at the town office at 9 a.m.

Marta Clements is attending school at UMF this summer.

Esther Davis has got me onto crutches at last and we have been to Norway several times and we called on Judy Andrews to see her and the pretty little baby, Jan Andrews. They were fine.

Esther Davis took me for a ride Sunday. We went to Shagg Pond, by the Bisbee Orchards, and the Emily Tuell farm. We finally came to a dead end road and turned back, went to West Sumner and to North Paris. We turned onto a road to the left thinking we would come out on Hungry Hollow but we got lost and onto a road like a cow path with grass in the middle that we drove over for what seemed like miles. We finally came out in North Buckfield and came home by South Paris. I wonder why that road isn't widened so cars can pass. There really is no way to meet a car on that road and go by.

Tuesday morning Esther Davis took me to Bethel to the doctor's office.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Hathaway attended the open house at Gilman Whitman's Gallery in North Edgcomb one day this week. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Swan went with them. owner of the Sunday River Ski Resort and Newry Selectman Stephen Wight, MDOT Commissioner Dana Connors and others from the DOT have viewed the Skiway Access Road and feel that funds might now be available from the General Fund, under the now defunct Recreational Area Access Act to rebuild the Skiway Access Road. Under this plan the state would pay one-half the cost of reconstruction and the town and skiway would each pay one-fourth. The town appropriated $25,000 for this purpose at the

The Greenwood Fire Department held its regular meeting Tuesday, Aug. 6, at the fire house. The next meeting will be a training session Tuesday, Aug. 20, at 6:30 p.m.

The Greenwood Historical Society held a potluck supper and meeting at Blaine and Margaret Mills. There were 24 present including four guests at the business meeting. Mellen Kimball reported he'd been working spare time on the plumbing and will soon need some more workers to help. It was reported that there will be another old timers' dance on Aug. 17 at 8 p.m. at the town hall. This may be the last one of the season unless a replacement can be found for one of the musicians who will not be available after August. The committee reported close to $100 was made on the last dance.

Vera Cross and Charlotte Cole went to a cookout at the camp of Lillian and Wilfred Noyes on Webb Lake in Weld on Saturday.

Lee and Frank Mills attended the funeral of Mary Waterhouse Saturday and then attended the open house for Pat and Ersel Murphy, Sunday.

Guest minister at the Locke Mills Union Church for Sunday, Aug. 18, will be Rev. Charles Pendleton.

The North Pond Sailing Association held its regatta Sunday, Aug. 4, at North pond. Winners of the races were as follows: 1st race, Bob Sylvan, Bolton, Mass.; 2nd, Rodney Cross, Dixfield; 3rd, Gye Parsons, Connecticut; 6th, Sylvia Martin, Indian Pond; 7th, Jeff Parsons, North Pond. This was the largest turnout of boats in two years. The last race of the season on North Pond was held on Aug. 11. The final race of the year will be held on Lake Christopher, Sunday, Aug. 18, at 1 p.m. Trophies will be awarded.

Congratulations to the Greenwood Colt team on winning the league championship Wednesday at Rumford Point after beating Bethel 1 in a close contest. Bethel 1 was undefeated in regular season play and was a formidable opponent.

Annual Town Meeting last March and Mr. Otten has indicated that the skiway would put up a like amount. The DOT has indicated that they felt the $100,000 would be adequate for the job. After reconstruction, which might start as early as this fall, the state would take over summer maintenance of the road.

Charlotte Cole celebrated her birthday Aug. 4. She was treated to a birthday supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeNormandie. Also present were Jessica and Janelle DeNormandie, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dyer, Norwood, Mass., Grace Day, and Art and Evelyn Weisner. Evelyn made the birthday cake.

Mills Church was held Saturday, Aug. 10, with a good turnout.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Noyes, Wilton, were supper guests Thursdays of Charlotte Cole and went to see her father, Lester Cole, at the Market Square Health Facility at South Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry York, Burnt Hills, N.J., hosted an open house at the Albany Church Saturday afternoon in honor of his mother, Edna York, who celebrated her 75th birthday this year.

Louis Martin, Chapel Valley, visited his sister, Mrs. Lee Mills, Tuesday, at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dyer, Norwood, Mass., were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeNormandie last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mills took care of Linda and Tom Gibbs' dog while they went to Connecticut to visit her mother and sister and to pick up Heather and Tracey Gibbs who were visiting their grandmother for the week.

Ashley Kenyon, daughter of Bruce and Doreen Kenyon, fell Thursday and struck her head on a brick. She was taken by ambulance to Stephens Memorial Hospital where she was treated and released.

Marie and Barry York and family, Burnt Hills, N.Y., and Elinor Murphy and family, Wenonah, N.J., left for home this past weekend after camping on Charlotte Cole's camp lot for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mills attended the open house for Pat and Ersel Murphy Sunday afternoon on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary.

Gilead

By LOUISE LORING

The Gilead Diet Group enjoyed an outing at Story Land in Glen, N.H., recently, with all their children.

Linda Smith has been a patient at the Rumford Community Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ferrand and family of Whitehouse, N.J., were guests of his mother, Anita Ferrand, at her home on the North Road recently. Prior to that Mr. and Mrs. Danny Ferrand and son of New Jersey were also guests of his mother.

Chris Chapman returned from the National Boy Scout Jamboree in Virginia last week.

Mary Tyler was home from her work in Concord, N.H., recently, and Kathy returned with her for the rest of the summer.

Much excitement prevailed at the Evans Notch Motel one day last week when two young men from New Hampshire were apprehended at gun-point by New Hampshire and Maine State Police. Prior to that many campers at Hastings Campground in Evans Notch (White Mountain National Forest) were terrorized, held at gun-point and robbed. The two separate incidents were not related. (Camping anyone?)

The village has been quiet lately as I presume all the skunks have moved away, and peace at the monument seems to reign. I am referring of course to the four-legged species of this category.

Many thanks go to all the kind friends and neighbors who have lent me a welcome hand and encouraging word during my period of ill health. What would I do without friends. At present I lie in a jack-knife position on a hospital bed, made available to the citizens of Gilead and set up very capably for me by Bob by Coriveau and Frankie. Thanks boys. It is good to feel no pain for awhile. Also thanks to Elaine Packard, Anita Ferrand, Kathy Cole, Mary Cole, Millie McLain and Anna Belanger. Love you all and God bless.

The way you shop for clothes reveals your personality, say experts. And with most parents concerned about getting a new wardrobe ready for the '86 school "daze," an analysis of this group's hidden traits seems logical.

Weekly shopper: You tend to be outgoing, flexible, up-to-date and have enough money to add new items week by week to your child's wardrobe regardless of cost, time and energy. Weekly trips to a children's apparel shop do not leave you appalled. Therefore, you are almost shockproof.

Change of season shopper: You buy classic clothing, you're organized and plan ahead. You don't go in for fads and care about appearance. You also know that you can wait to buy ski boots and winter coats just as easily when snowflakes fall as now when the temperature soars to 90 and you'd rather be at the beach.

Once a year shopper: You do everything once a year whether the kid needs it or not. You make lists, plan in advance, have strong opinions and waste no time. It is practical to buy all kids' clothes at least two sizes too big—(they will grow into them). A few tucks here and there, who's to know.

Mail order: You hate shopping. You

Bethel

By LINDA CARON

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown, Milford, Conn., visited her mother, Tools Sclaraf-fa during a recent weekend. Tools, Margaret and Rita wishing Paul, the only missing member, could be with them.

Marie Swan enjoyed a week in Turner recently with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Vigue of Gorham, N.H., who also spent three days visiting her uncle, Ted Gallant and family.

Mrs. Sue Vedella and children returned to Colli Neck, N.H., Aug. 3, after spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Howe. Sue and Sarah also visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hastings in Gorham, N.H., while here. Other recent visitors with the Howes were Mr. and Mrs. William Howe of Norbeck, Md.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Howard (Vivian Brown) was the site of a combination Brown family reunion and 45th wedding anniversary for Beatrice and James Brown on Sunday, Aug. 4. Family members arrived after lunch to enjoy an afternoon of swimming, boating and news-swapping. An evening meal was enjoyed by all, topped by a beautiful anniversary cake made by Dorothy Brown, who runs the Gingerbread House in Bryant Pond. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. James L. Brown and children, Mr. and Mrs. Trafton Foster (Linda Brown), Seth and Aaron, of Pittsfield, Mass., Mrs. Nancy Brown Vargui, Alberto, Elizabeth and Riccardo, of Italy, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Brown and Kimberly, Bryant Pond; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brown and daughters, Mrs. Julia Brown Bennett and Jason of Northfield, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Peter Howard (Vivian Brown), Jill and Debbie, of Bridgton; Miss Arlene Brown of Salem, N.H.; Mr. and Mrs. Blake MacKay (Rachel Brown) and children, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Parker (Susan MacKay) of Standish, Blaine MacKay of Oakland, Calif., Sandra MacKay and fiancé, Michael Robinson of Amsterdam, N.Y.

Mrs. Beatrice Grover is in Bangor with her daughter, Mrs. Carla Durgin, while receiving treatment at a Bangor hospital.

Mary Carroll is at her home on Main Street. Welcome home, Mary!

In the further adventures of Miss Independent, it is "I do it" month. That and "I get it," "Mine!" That's all we hear lately. Dressing herself, helping me make Daddy's lunch, feeding the dog are only three of the "I do it" tasks around our house. I wish Jaime would say "I do it" when I suggest potty time! Then it's a loud and emphatic "NO!"

Complaint department: A friend of look at catalogs. You're clever, very busy and easy going. Also you are fussy and most of the time you return the whole order with a nasty accompanying letter and go to a bargain off-the-rack place after all.

Necessity shopper: You are practical, frugal, down-to-earth, loyal, hate surprises, and shop only when you want something badly, and settle for no second bests. You gripe at prices, purchase them, wear them out, cut off the buttons, turn the whole garment into a useful item after it's passe!

However you shop—whatever you do—God bless—and Peace.

Council to meet Aug. 20

The Oxford County Council of the American Legion will meet on Tuesday, Aug. 20, at the American Legion Hall in Peru. The guest speaker will be Past Department Commander Edward Roach. There will be a lunch following the meeting.

mine good-naturedly (?) complained that I've mentioned a certain singer in every column I've written. Sooo... I did some investigative reporting (?) and discovered I have written 18 columns including this one and I've only mentioned Larry Gatlin nine times. Any other complaints? Does that "exhaust" the issue? Anyone can be a critic, y'know. Want to fill in for me?

On a more serious note: Nowhere is it written that life is fair. Sometimes it seems that the one person who deserves to be happy isn't. But just when you think they'll never see the sun again, the clouds pass and a beautiful rainbow appears to touch the saddened heart. That rainbow is often in the form of a friend. A friend is that rare person who asks how how we are and then waits to hear the answer. So when that friend comes to you, consider the advice of Pope John XXIII. "Never hesitate to hold out your hand: never hesitate to accept the outstretched hand of another."

Food for thought: "For those who understand, no explanation is necessary. For those who don't understand, no explanation will suffice."—Anon.

Notes from Woodstock Historical Society

Here is an account of a Model-T excursion of years past:

"We loaded sweaters and windbreakers and knapsacks into the Ford and started north on a bright October afternoon. Motoring years ago was a more rugged adventure than it is now; we had to force through cobble streets and jammed up traffic and then jounce everlastingly over the high-crowned washboard roads in the open country, determined to maintain a twenty-five-mile-an-hour average. To achieve a hundred in four hours in a Model T was fine work, but exhausting. Yet on this day the air lay sweetly over the golden countryside, full of balm and peace and the faint taste of leaf smoke. We sang and laughed and drank the rare and mellow distillations of Indian summer; our summer grew light, our heads giddy with joy; the flames of the northern maples made great chords of splendid music in our spirit. We hailed the northward adventure, the lifting of each high hill, the spreading mile of forest, the coming of dark spruce, the first glint of rock peaks in the silvery blue, and then the long slow waning of the sun, the golden flow of light from the southwest level across the colored land, the intensity of it, deepening and brightening toward night, the palpable gold on the leaves and grasses, the blue wells of shadows, valleys lost now in dusk and high hill still glowing in smokeless mantles of fire."—Gerald Warner Bruce.

ONE YEAR OLD

On July 14, 1985, Ashley Marie Gunther celebrated her first birthday at the home of her grandparents, Frank and Gloria Burgess in West Peru. She thoroughly enjoyed the party and well decorated home—complete with noisemakers, hats, balloons, and a beautifully decorated cake, done by her mother. Attending the party other than her parents, Scott and Debbie Gunther, and grandparents, Frank and Gloria Burgess, were: grandparents Howard and Sandra Gunther; great grandmothers, Frances Gunther and Jeannette Lamontagne; and great aunt Diane Wing, with cousins Shannon and Stephanie Wing; friend, Paul Allaine; and her two favorite uncles, Eric Gunther and Frank Burgess, Jr. Unable to attend were: great grandmother, Annie Olson; cousins, Dick and Shari Moore and sons, Brandon and Danny. Ashley loved all the gifts and people and would thank you all if she could just put it into words.

East Bethel

By MYRA FOSTER

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Twitchell were Mrs. Rose Dyer of Bethel; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Twitchell and Sandy Endicott of Locke Mills.

Ryan Bernier is staying with his grandfather, Roland Bernier, in Upton this week.

Jerry Bernier is visiting Mrs. Melanie Farmer in Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hastings attended the Hastings family reunion at the Hastings camp in Fryburg, on Aug. 11.

On Wednesday, Aug. 7, Mrs. Josephine Tyler and Chris Russell of Dixfield picked up Albert Foster and Myra Foster and took them to Naples where they met Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilnot. Then they all took a ride through the locks on the Songo Queen II for two hours. It was a very enjoyable trip for all. On the way home we stopped at the Red Top Restaurant and had a snack, and talked with Miss Esther Crockett, the owner, and Mrs. Grace Gibson as well as George Crockett who came in. We haven't seen him for a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Foster and David of Andover were luncheon guests of Mrs. Myra Foster Thursday and brought corn and cucumbers.

Mrs. Grace Smith of Locke Mills and grandson, Eben Smith of Bethel, visited the Fosters in the morning and brought us some string beans. Ours haven't come on yet.

On Aug. 10, I attended the Red Sox-Yankees baseball game in Boston as a birthday present from Mrs. Josephine Foster. Mrs. Tyler usually charts a big bus once a year to go to one of the ball games. This year she had 46 or 48 people going.

I had an Easter Lily, which came through the winter and now has two big blossoms on it. I thought it was dead last fall and didn't take it up. Also I have a beautiful red glloxinia which has 17 blossoms and 17 buds on it. It reminds me of those gorgeous red glloxinias that Maggie Newton used to raise and how I envied hers as I couldn't get them to bloom back then. The glloxinia was given me as a Mother's Day present last year by John and Agnes Foster.

Mrs. Floribel Haines and Mrs. Agnes Haines worked at the Moses Mason House Sudbury during Canada Days in Bethel.

MEETING HOUSE CONCERT SUNDAY BIG SUCCESS

The annual concert at the Middle Intervale Meeting House on Sunday afternoon was "a smashing success!" That was just one of the remarks overheard. It was a full house and the mood of the audience was light and happy with expectations running high. No one was disappointed.

After extending greetings from the Middle Intervale Meeting House Society, Mary Keniston turned the program over to Bethel's own Telstar music director, Harry Davis. Along with his musical talents, he delighted everyone with some of his witty and humorous stories as master of ceremonies. He's not the only talented member of the Davis family! His lovely wife, Susan, vocalized a selection from "My Fair Lady"—"Wouldn't It Be Lovely." Their house guest, Judy Morgan, treated all to an aria from "The Barber of Seville." The girls then joined together in a "Comic Duet for Two Cats." They were accompanied by Ned Hastings at the piano.

The next selection listed on the program was instrumental and it turned out to be Mr. Davis himself! He played an arrangement of "Deep River" for piano and tuba. He was accompanied by Judy Morgan.

A friend of Mr. Davis, Rick Davis, from West Paris, accompanied himself on the guitar while he serenaded those assembled with some delightful ballads. One was a song made popular by Eddy Arnold years ago entitled "Until It's Time for You to Go." Rick is in the process of forming his own band.

After a short intermission which gave everyone a chance to stretch, visit, or enjoy a cup of ice-cold punch served by Edie Guyer, Judy Carter, and Lene Fliske, the bell sounded for round two.

Following intermission, the tone drifted to a more serious setting, when Ned Hastings treated the audience to some of his piano favorites from Handel and Chopin. Ned has been in every concert that the society has held at the Meeting House since 1980, and has given of his time and talent selflessly. Then came three members of the Ragtag Peoples Theatre, warming up for their Sunday evening cabaret at the Bethel Inn. The vocalists were Bob Elliott and Piko Williams, accompanied on the piano by Laura Leckey. Their selections were from George and Ira Gershwin and included such memorable tunes as "Fascinating Rhythm," "I've Got Plenty of Nothing," "Summertime," and "Let's Call the Whole Thing Off." They performed both as soloists and in duets.

Richard Felt and Dorothy Canwell gave musical selections on harmonica and piano, followed by Dorothy's whistling some sacred hymns—her favorites being "My Beautiful Garden of Prayer," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." It is always a great pleasure to listen to them.

The concert ended with a sing-along led by maestro Davis, with Ned at the piano. Mary Keniston closed the program by expressing the society's gratitude to all the performers, concert chairperson Arlene G. Brown, and her helpers and to Phyllis Dock and Rebecca Bailey for furnishing the flowers which were everywhere in evidence.

THE MIDDLE INTERVALE MEETING HOUSE concert, held Sunday in conjunction with Sudbury Canada Days, was a great success. Above, Susan Davis, from Utah, sings, while Judy Morgan accompanies on the piano.

Songo Pond

By ALICE KIMBALL

Lawrence Kimball was painfully injured Tuesday morning (Aug. 6) in a woods accident. His wife discovered him pinned beneath a tree when she returned with the tractor from a trip to the logging yard. The BEARS in their efficient manner transported him to the Stephens Memorial Hospital. Neighbors Robert and David Anderson helped in getting him freed and out to the waiting ambulance.

Last weekend Mrs. Christine Kimball was an overnight visitor Friday of her daughter and family in Monmouth. She also visited her mother and sister and attended Monmouth Fair. On Monday she was in Leeds to attend funeral services for her nephew, Royce Burgess, who was instantly killed when a piece of a car he was working on fell on him. He leaves a wife and two little girls. Mrs. Alberta Ridlon and Mrs. Jocelyn Heath accompanied Christine Monday.

Callers this week of Jimmy and Christine were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lowe of Norway Tuesday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brown, Friday afternoon, from Chuluota, Fla. Mrs. Virginia Chadwick from Chuluota was a lunch guest Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Libby of Portland are the proud parents of a son—weight eight pounds and 15 ounces.

Not to be outdone by a successful concert, word came from Sarah Stevens and Edie Guyer that the food sale on Saturday met all expectations and can share the spotlight with the concert. Many thanks to all the good cooks that there are amongst us!

The Middle Intervale Meeting House Society wish to thank everyone for their support in this special weekend project.

WWI BARRACKS AUXILIARY

The World War I Barracks Auxiliary met at the Riverside Picnic Area Wednesday, Aug. 7, for a picnic dinner. Plans were made for the yard sale Aug. 10, at Hilda Donahue's, with the following members in charge: Hilda Donahue, Frances Bennett, Maude Danforth, Bessie Pope, Belle Lavorgna, Myra Stevens, and Adeline Dexter. It was voted to send $10 to the Scholarship Fund in memory of Mary Laws; also voted to send $10 to the carnival. Maude Danforth passed around the birthday basket with gifts for those who were having birthdays in August.

The next meeting will be at the American Legion Rooms Sept. 4, with the following dinner committee, Hilda Donahue, Mary Bishop, and Rose Taylor.

named Robert Steven. He was born on his grandfather's birthday—Herbert Barker of South Paris—he is the great grandson of Christine Kimball.

Mrs. Rachel MacKay was a caller one evening of Mrs. Norma Salway. Mr. and Mrs. David Salway were overnight visitors Friday of his brothers, Barry and Paul and families in Laconia, N.H.

I spent the day Friday with my daughter and family at The Cape in Orlisfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Parsons and son Peter of Hebron, Conn., spent last weekend with his parents, Jack and Eleanor Parsons and some time with her parents in Orlisfield.

Linwood Ring has returned home from Stephens Memorial Hospital. Arthur Ring has been staying with his parents. Kaye Glines, Jonathan and Joline, Danbury, N.H., visited her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Ring, for a few days.

Monday, Aug. 19, will be musicians' night and open house at Franklin Grange. The public is invited to attend this meeting which will start at 7:30 p.m. The Woodstock Senior Citizens held a successful sale on Thursday according to reports.

On Aug. 17, the Historical Society will hold a food sale at Littlefield's beach. All members please note this.

Elizabeth Hoyt has been spending two weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoyt.

On Wednesday, Aug. 21, the Woodstock Extension group will tour the Robinson mill at Oxford. Members will meet at 8:45 a.m. at the Town Hall to car pool.

CCD CLASSES AT OUR LADY OF THE SNOWS

CCD classes for grades 1 through 6 will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 10 from 2:30 to 3:30. All classes will be held at Our Lady of the Snows Church on Route 26 in Bethel. All students coming by bus must have a note each week so that their teachers and bus drivers will know where they are to be let off—in the church parking lot. Adult supervision will be on the church grounds from 2:30 on so that those coming early will not be there alone. Any questions can be answered by calling Linda Caron at 824-2148, Gemma Dreher at 836-3382 or Peg Wheeler at 824-2859.

One more reminder about the regular monthly meeting to be held Aug. 18, at 7 p.m. at the bus garage. There will be discussion about Auto Extrication Day, which begins at 9 a.m. at Gaudreux's, Aug. 25.

Are you interested in learning CPR? First Aid? Do you know someone who is? Call Arlene Greenleaf, Laura Plawlock or Will Crowell—classes start next month!

Safety Tip Lately reports of accidents involving backing up have been making news. If you follow these simple rules you may well avoid such a tragedy. At home, always walk around your car to be certain no young children or animals are playing (or sleeping) in the driveway. When you are backing up, check behind you on both sides. One never knows where a child or car or a bicycle may appear. If you are a pedestrian, be aware of what's happening around you. Listen for the sound of a vehicle backing out of driveway and be prepared to move quickly. Don't let yourself become a statistic.

See you next week with news and tips to keep you healthy and happy!

NOTICE TO GREENWOOD RESIDENTS There will be a public hearing Tuesday, August 27, 1985, at the Greenwood Town Hall, 7 p.m., to adopt requirements of the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (P.L. 90-448 as amended).

WITH MUD FLYING, this airborne 4x4 pickup got a flying start into the Mollyvockett Mud Bog in West Paris Sunday. Over 1,000 spectators turned out to drink beer and watch the action. Vehicles had to traverse a bog of about 100 yards, which got increasingly deeper. Most didn't make it through and had to be extricated from the bog by a skidder.

North Paris

By EVELINE B. VATCHER

Congratulations to Judy Lamb McLaughlin on being elected as West Paris' first selectwoman in the town's history. We all know that she will strive to help the townspeople.

On Monday, Aug. 5, a gathering at "Big Rock" farm to celebrate the birthdays of Albert Penley Sr. and Doris Lawrence. Guests: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Records, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley Sr., Mr. and Mrs. "Root" Lawrence, Stanley Ukelele and daughter, Kelly, and the host, Joe Kalinowski. It was beautiful there on the hill and so cool with a lovely breeze.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, Sr., Burlington, Mass., came to Bridgton on Saturday on business so they spent the night with Joe and Eveline.

Eveline Vatcher, Mrs. Rena Rainey and son, were at Bethel Monday to see an allergy doctor. Then Tuesday Eveline was at the Norway hospital for tests and kidney X-rays by Dr. Robinson.

Callers at Lawrence's: Jeff and Jimbo Coffin, Stevie Millett, Odell Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Downing, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, Rhoda Vatcher, Sharon and Jenny Felt and friend, Joe and Eveline Vatcher.

Stanley Ukelele and daughter, Kelly, Portland, Conn., visited Joe Kalinowski, for several days.

Rhoda Vatcher and Doris Vatcher went to Katie's Kitchen, Aug. 6, for dinner with the West Paris Senior Citizens then they visited Hedgehog Hill Farm in East Sumner. Joe Kalinowski was also a member of the party.

The Community Club meeting slated for Aug. 7 was postponed; everyone busy.

Rhoda Vatcher, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher went to Andover, Mass., Aug. 10, for the Vatcher reunion. Joe took his mother and she enjoyed the day even if she couldn't see. It was a large gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Abbott have been fishing during the week's lay-off at Stowell's.

By CAROLYN M. COLBY

Joe Deegan and Koral Smith went with Leah Deegan to the Newton & Tobbits mill picnic to Abbott's Anchorage a week ago.

This weekend she has gone to Marion Soule's and they expect to attend the Palermo Days festivities.

Congratulations to Joe and Muriel Gilbert. Saturday, Aug. 10 was their golden wedding anniversary. There was a celebration last Sunday at their daughter Jean Collet's in Sebago. Over 50 friends and relatives attended. Their son-in-law Al Collet recorded the event on video tape to be enjoyed for years to come.

Recent visitors at their home have been Bernard and Florence Plotte, Berlin, Rosaire and Blanche Gagnon of Lewiston.

Baseball season is over for another year. It has been a strange one weather wise; at one game it would be hot enough to fry an egg on home plate, and the next might be so chilly that winter jackets were needed. Greenwood Colt team deserves congratulations on winning the trophy. The games were really exciting.

WINONA M. DAVIS

Winona M. Davis of Hanover, formerly of Bethel, died Wednesday, Aug. 7, 1985, at the Rumford Community Hospital where she had been admitted earlier in the week.

She was born in Upton on Aug. 15, 1904, the daughter of Walter L. and Elizabeth Coffey Fuller. Educated in the Upton school, she married Moses R. Davis and was a homemaker all of her life. A resident of Bethel until two and a half years ago when she moved to Hanover, Mrs. Davis was a member of the Worldwide Church of God.

Survivors include two sons, Richmond Davis of Hanover and Clayton Sweatt of Bethel; two grandsons and a granddaughter.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Greenleaf Funeral Home. Interment was at the Pine Grove Cemetery, West Bethel.

HILDA LOUISE CHASE

Hilda Louise Chase of Hanover, wife of Raymond Chase, died Wednesday, Aug. 7, 1985, at the Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway, where she had been a patient for two months.

She was born in Rumford on Jan. 9, 1936, the daughter of Harvey and Anita Aucoin Rafuse. Mrs. Chase was a 1955 graduate of Gould Academy. A resident of the greater Rumford area most of her life, she was a communicant of St. Athanasius-St. John Church. A member of the Rumford Point CAA, the Ladies Bowling League of Oxford Lanes, and the Rumford Point Scouting program, she was also very active in the youth sport activities in the greater Rumford area.

Survivors include her husband, Raymond, of Hanover; her mother, Anita Pataky of Nashua, N.H.; two sons, Raymond Jr. and Mitchell, both of Hanover; two daughters, Mrs. David (Beverly) Breaud of Londonderry, N.H., and Miss Rachel Chase of Nashua, N.H.; a brother, Kenneth Rafuse of Dixfield; two sisters, Mrs. Carl (June) Evans of Rushville, Ind., and Joyce Lyons of Nashua, N.H.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held Friday morning at the St. Athanasius-St. John Church, Rumford. Burial was at the Hanover Cemetery.

ROBERT A. LAMONTAGNE

Robert A. Lamontagne of Berlin, N.H., died Thursday afternoon, Aug. 8, 1985, as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident on Route 5 in Bethel.

He was born in Berlin, N.H., June 28, 1943, the son of Clement and Yvette Dube Lamontagne. Educated in Berlin schools, he married Judith Buck on Jan. 14, 1967. Mr. Lamontagne most recently worked at the Hanover Dowel Co. until forced to retire due to ill health.

Survivors include his wife, Judith, of Bethel; three daughters, Nancy and Judy, both of Bethel, and Elaine of Monmouth; one son, Daniel of Lewiston; his mother, Mrs. Yvette Lambert of Berlin, N.H.; two brothers, Roland C. of Berlin, N.H., and Ronald A. of West Franklin, N.H.; and two grandchildren.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated Saturday afternoon at the Greenleaf Funeral Home. Interment was at the Riverside Cemetery, Bethel.

Fire damages Kendall Dowel Mill in W. Bethel

An early-morning fire last Saturday damaged the boiler room of the Kendall Dowel Mill on Route 2 in West Bethel. Manager Clayton Kendall said he had no idea how the fire started since the fires had been put out in the furnace the afternoon before.

"It must've started about half-past-three," he estimated. He was awakened at about 4 a.m. by the newspaper delivery man, who told him there was a fire at the mill. He immediately notified the Bethel Fire Department and the owners of the mill, Harold and Laurel Jones, of Windham.

The fire was contained to the boiler room, where it ruined all the electrical switches and motors, but apparently spared the boiler itself and the sawdust feeder and burner.

Nevertheless, it effectively halted drying operations in the kiln. "It's a terrific setback," commented Mr. Kendall. But, he added, "It was very lucky it didn't get into the dry kiln. If that would have got on fire we would have some trouble."

The wood in the dry kiln was not even scorched, and only a portion of the upper wall between the dry kiln and the boiler room was singed.

The plant has about three weeks of dry wood on hand and Mr. Kendall expects to keep the 12 to 15-person workforce busy while repairs are being made to the boiler room. Even if the electrical repairs take more than three weeks, he is optimistic that the plant can stay operational. "You could feed (the boiler) with buckets (of sawdust) if you have to," he said.

Tri-Town Rescue

Tri-Town Rescue Auxiliary is planning a public supper Saturday, Aug. 17, at 5:30 p.m., in the West Paris Grange Hall. They will serve a menu of baked beans, casseroles, rolls, salads and homemade pies.

The annual Community Birthday Calendar sales are now underway. A Tri-Town member should be contacting you for your order within the next week. Birthdays and anniversaries for the entire family can be listed on the calendar as a reminder to all who have the calendars.

60th ANNIVERSARY PARTY HONORS MR. & MRS. MURPHY

On Sunday, Aug. 4, the children of Mr. and Mrs. R. Glenn (Pat) Murphy hosted an open house for them at the Lions' Den (IOOF) Hall, Bethel, in honor of their 60 years of married life.

This was surprise gathering and the Murphys (Ersel and Pat) thought they were going to attend a family dinner. Mrs. Murphy even made the rolls! As Ersel and Pat entered the hall they received a yellow rose corsage and boutonniere. Family members had gathered and it wasn't until friends started coming through the doors that the Murphys realize this was more than a family dinner.

Approximately 200 guests arrived to congratulate the couple on the longevity of their marriage. Friends and family came from Rangeley, Phillips, Augusta, Oakland, and Bangor, Maine; Durham, N.H., as well as the Bethel area. A very pleasant surprise was the arrival of Pat's sister-in-law Mrs. Esther Murphy. Rev. Jack Shankel, District Superintendent of the Nazarene Church, took time from his busy schedule to visit with the Murphys for a few minutes.

The buffet table was coordinated by Mrs. Roy Murphy. The centerpiece was not only lovely to look at but delicious to eat. This was a scooped out watermelon cut in the shape of a basket and filled with delicious fruit salad. It was made by Peggy Grafham, Bridgeton. Patty is the daughter of Roy and Dot Murphy and the granddaughter of Pat and Ersel Murphy. The cakes, there were two, were decorated by Debra Seames. One was a family tree with 106 descendants and the anniversary cake decorated with 60 yellow roses of different sizes. Debra is the daughter of Bob and Joyce Stearns and the granddaughter of Pat and Ersel. The money tree was the work of Frank Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy were married on Aug. 5, 1925, in the Baptist Church at Rangeley. They started their life together in Rangeley, moving to Stratton in 1939, and to Bethel in 1944.

The Murphys gave birth to nine children and adopted two and one couldn't count those that passed through their doors and hallways for a brief or long stay. Robert G., passed away in 1976; Joyce Stearns, Bethel; Bill, Alameda, Calif.; Roy, Bethel; Ray, passed away in 1982; Frank, Gilead; Josephine Salava, Omaha, Neb.; Ruth Mason, Bethel; Jim, Bay City, Tex.; Paul, Florida; and Chris, Oakland, Maine. Mrs. Rhonda Dalton of Massachusetts has always been a daughter in their hearts. Rhonda lived the first year of her life with the Murphys.

They have 23 grandchildren and 35 great grandchildren.

Mr. Murphy also celebrated his 79th birthday on Aug. 5, 1985.

HASTINGS - LOWELL ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hastings of Bethel are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter Julianna, to Robert J. Lowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lowell of Newry.

Miss Hastings is a 1984 graduate of Telstar Regional High School. She attended University of Maine-Bangor, and is presently employed at Valley View Farm in East Bethel.

Mr. Lowell graduated from Telstar Regional High School in 1972. He is president and co-owner of Western Maine Supply Co.

The wedding is planned for Oct. 12, 1985.

Rotary Club notes

This week has been a busy one for Bethel Rotary. This is the time of the annual visitation by the district governor of Rotary to Bethel. The district governor this year is Sam Giffos, a member of the Portland club.

A tri-club social was held Monday at the Madison Motor Inn in honor of the district governor and his wife, Helene. Rumford was the host club this year, joined by Oxford Hills and Bethel. It was a great opportunity for Rotarians and their wives to meet the district governor and his wife. Everyone enjoyed the excellent food and camaraderie of the evening.

The district is one of the largest in Rotary International, encompassing most of New England plus most of northeast Canada.

On Tuesday, the district governor made his visitation to Bethel. Club President Lennie Shaw and Secretary John Head met at The Bethel Inn for a breakfast meeting with Governor Giffos to brief him on plans and objectives of the club for the 1985-86 term.

At noon, the regular luncheon meeting was held at the Sudbury Inn. Governor Giffos addressed the club and outlined his goals for the year. The district governor's eloquence and sense of humor were enjoyed by the membership. From all indications, this should be a good year of "Service above Self" for Rotary International and the Bethel club.

The district governor's wife, Helene, accompanied by Becky Shaw, Cynthia Gofjen and Bunny MacMunn, lunched at The Bethel Inn.

Visiting Rotarians and guests joining at the weekly luncheon meeting were:

8th ANNUAL NEW ENGLAND TRAPPERS WEEKEND

AUG. 23-24-25, EAST BETHEL

The eighth annual New England Trappers Weekend is scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 23, 24, and 25 at Neil Olson's in East Bethel.

Among the features for this annual event are a fishing contest of kids (at a freshly stocked pond), trap setting contest, skits and a softball challenge.

On Saturday at two o'clock, as a special feature, world-famous "Spoonie the Clown" will be talking to the kids about child molesting and kidnapping.

When Spoonie tells them what to do they remember it the rest of their lives.

Some 20 trappers have already been lined up for this event, with many more to be added as the dates for the "big event" draw near.

All trappers are invited to this annual weekend for families and for a general sharing of trapping knowledge. Last year between two and three thousand trappers from 23 states attended.

TENTH ANNUAL LOVELL ARTS & CRAFTS FAIR

COMING UP SATURDAY

The Tenth Annual Lovell Arts and Crafts Fair will be held Saturday, Aug. 17, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the library lawn in Lovell Village. The fair features a juried crafts show with a reputation for quality and diversity. This year exhibitors will show their work in pottery, needlework, fine woodwork, metals, jewelry, painting, photography, weaving and spinning, leather, basketry, decorative accessories, and herbs and everlastings.

Last year's popular drawing will be repeated this year. Tickets will be on sale at the library up to the time of the drawing for 16 art and craft items. The Lovell Historical Society has planned an exhibit which will offer fairgoers a look at older handmade baskets, clothing, quilts, fanwork, and metal tools and utensils.

Several Bethel area people will be exhibiting their work at the fair this year. Mary Isham will be displaying mohair nards; on yarns; Suzanne Laban will be showing handspun yarn and small knitted items; Lucy Rogers will offer handspun yarns and handmade knitwear. Faye Corrin of Bryant Pond will be exhibiting pottery; Peter Lenz of Norway will show fine woodwork; Helen Morton will display paintings; Edna Isham will show weaving; Christina Olmstead of Norway will exhibit dog ornaments; and Paul Beaton of Bryant Pond will exhibit metalwork. Mark and Terry Silber of Buckfield will display herbs and everlastings. All exhibitors will have craft work and art items for sale and some will be demonstrating their work.

There will be a book sale again this year and food prepared by the Women's Library Club will be for sale. The fair will be held rain or shine—in the event of rain it will be just down Route 5 at the New Suncoo School. All proceeds benefit the Charlotte E. Hobbs School in Lovell Village.

Bill Lowther, Boonton, N.J., Gil Robinson, Delaware, Al Gironda, Rumford, Larry Farmer, South Paris, Curtis Cole, South Paris.

The speaker next week will be Myron Pierce, of the Shriners' Burn Hospital.
